Majority of Members of House Selected For Positions Democrats

37 GIVEN THE SOUTH

Caucus of Members of Party Make Preparations For Opening of Congress on Monday.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Democratic members of the Ways and Means Committee, acting as a Committee on Committees, have completed their work of selecting majority members of the House committees, the result of which will strengthen the influence and leadership of Southern Democrats in the organization of the next House of Representatives.

In the last House the South held 35 chairmanships, Northern and Western Democrats held in the last House 23 chairmanships, but in the coming House they will hold only 21. CLARKE RE-ELECTED

Senators Martin and Swanson Vote for Pomerene

Washington, Dec. 4—Democratic Senators in party conference yesterday afternoon re-elected Senator James P. Clarke, of Arkansas, as president pro tempore of the Senate The vote was.: Clarke, 28; Pomerene, 23.

The ballot showed the administration did not try to influence the result, administration Senators dividing between Clarke and Pomerene Some of the adherents of Senator Pomerene were disposed to regard the result as rather serious in the effect it would have upon cloture and the ship-purchase bill, which the administration has decided to resubmit to Congress. Senator Reed, of Missouri, declared the defeat of Senator Pomerene meant the failure of the attempt to pass a cloture rule and that, without cloture, the ship-purchase legislation was doomed to fail

The conference agreed to vote at 5 o'clock this afternoon on the report submitted by the special cloture committee. It is the general opinion that even if the conference votes to adopt the report it will never be approved by the Senate. It was the judgement of the Democratic leaders that the move for cloture was practically a failure.

The vote of the president pro tempore came after most of the day had been given over to a discussion of the merits of the candidates. Some pointed speeches were made. Senator Williams nominated Senator Clarke and Senator Walsh, of Montana, performed the services for Senator Pomerene. Senator Tillman asked the favor of seconding Mr. Clarke

The vote was given as follows: For Clarke—Bankhead, Beckham Broussard, Bryan, Chamberlain, Gore Hardwick, Hughes, James, Johnson (Me.), Lane, Newlands, O'Gorman, Overman, Pomerene, Ransdell, Robinson, Saulsbury, Shafroth, Shields Simmons, Smith (Ga.) Smith (S. C.) Tillman, Underwood, Vardaman and Williams.

For Pomerene—Ashurst, Chilton, Hollis, Clarke, Fletcher, Husting, Johnson (S.D), Xern, Lee (Md.), Martin, Myers, Owens, Phelan, Pittman, Reed, Sheppard, Smith (Ariz.) Smith (Md.), Stone, Swanson, Thomas, Thompson and Walsh.

MONASTIR'S FALL NEW DRIVE SIGNAL

Teutons, Having Routed Serbs, Expect to Attack Allies

RUSSIA MAY SAVE DAY

Czar Threatens to Invade Bulgaria as Austrians Continue Advance Into Montenegro.

Athens, Dec. 4.—Part of the Serbian army of Gen. Vassisch, retiring from the region of Monastir, has crossed the frontier and taken refuge in Greece.

These forces, it is semi-officially stated, will neither be disarmed nor interned. On the contrary, they will be allowed to make their way eastward through Greek territory to rejoin the Anglo-French forces near Guegveli.

London, Dec. 4.—The second phase of the Balkan campaign is developing slowly. It is expected, however that with the conclusion of the operations against Servia, and the occupation of Monastir the whole Bulgarian army, when the weather permits, will attempt to drive the British and French forces out of southern Servia while the Austrians continue their efforts to over-run Montenegro; and the Germans, with the aid of the Turks and what Bulgarians and Austrians can be spared, turn their attention to the Russians, who again are reported to have entered Rumanian territory on their way to Bulgaria.

A report from France that part of the German army is going to the Gallipoli peninsula to assist the Turks in a great effort to drive the Entente allies from the peninsula, is hardly credited in military circles here, where it is not believed that they can spare the men, guns and ammunition for such a venture. The Turks, it is true, have been diplaying more activity recently in the Dardanelles, but this they are believed to have been doing more with ammunition which they have been collecting during the quiet period than with any fresh supplies from Germany.

Rustchuk, on the Danube, west of the Rumanian border, in the opinion of well-advised persons here, is to be the point of concentration for the Germans, both as a warning to Rumania that it would be dangerous for her to join the Entente Allies and to meet any Russian advance.

There is conflict in the speculation here regarding the position of Greece. Some dispatches say a satisfacory agreement has been reached between the Entente Allies and the Hellenic kingdom, while other aver that the situation is so unsatisfactory that the Entente Allies have re-established their restrictions on Greek commerce.

Telegraphic communication with Monastir ceased at 7 o'clock Thursday morning; it is believed the city has fallen. A later dispatch says Monastir was occupied by the Austro-German force at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

The correspondent, who says his information was received in a telegram from Florina, Greece, adds that the only flag hoisted when the city was occupied was the Austrian. The Bulgarians did not enter Monastir, remaining at Kenali, south of the city. It is reported, however, that they will march into Monastir today.

MURDERER CONFESSES.

Howard Washington Confesses to Crime of Murder Committed Long Ago.

Haunted in his dreams by the specter of the man he had murdered and in his waking hours, by the memory of his crime, Howard Washington a negro, who fled from Leesburg 15 years ago, leaving Ernest Campbell his employer, weltering in his blood, and in the throes of death, has surrendered himself to the police at Galveston, Tex., and confessed his crime.

According to telegraphic advices received by Sheriff T. W. Edwards, of Loudoun county, the negro walked into the Galveston police station several days ago, physically exhausted footsore and in tatters, and asked to be sent back to Virginia. He said he had wandered around the country for 15 years haunted by the ghost of Campbell. He could bear the sight of the spectral form that was continually rising before him no longer.

Washington quarreled with his employer while he was assisting Edwards in mending a stove, and seizing the oven door he struck the white man, crushing his skull. He fled and the county police were unable to find any trace of him. He will be returned to Loudoun county.

ITALY WILL HELP SERBIAN FORCES

Signs Agreement Binding Five Powers Against Separate Peace

CROSSING ADRIATIC

Foreign Minister Tells Italian Parliament Pledges of Greeks Are Most Satisfactory.

Rome, Dec. 4—The firm determination of all Italy—army, King and country—to continue in the war until the national aspirations are satisfied, was emphasized by Foreign Minister Sonnino in an address to the Senate and Chamber this week. After recapitulating Italy's share in the conflict, he announced that the Government had adhered to the agreement of London, binding the allies not to conclude a separate peace.

Baron Sonnino declared Greece had agreed to give the allies sufficient guarantees that she would maintain benevolent neutrality toward them The independence of Servia always had been one of th corner-stones of Italian policy, he asserted, and for that reason Italy would aid Servia across the Adriatic, providing supplies of arms and ammunition.

The Foreign Minister's speech was constantly interrupted by applause enthusiastic demonstrations taking place in both the Senate and the Chamber over the passage in the Foreign Minister's speech alluding to the help that Italy was about to give Serbia.

The only mention of Germany in Baron Sonnino's speech was when he said that "when Italy declared war on Austria Germany considered herself in a state of ruptured diplomatic relations with Italy."

The Foreign Minister explained that Italy followed in the Balkans her traditional policy, inspired by the principle of nationality in complete accord with the allies.

The Quadruple Entente, he said aimed to unite the Balkans, while the Central Empires forment their rivalry and disunion, finding unfortunately, favorable ground in the feelings of hatred and revenge that had resulted from the second Balkan war. Besides, he added, Balkan mentality was impressed by the course of military events, lacking a comprehension of the entire situation, from which should have sprung confidence in the final victory of the allies.

At another point in hi sspeech the Foreign Minister made this declaration:

"The existence of the political and economic independence of Servia is a vital necessity for Italy's existence as a great Power. In accord with our allies, we consider the restoration of the heroic Servian people in the fullness its independence as an unavoidable condition to end their great war Italy therefore, said Baron Sonnino, would do all possible to help the Servian army, awaiting a moment favorable for its resurrection. The presence of the Italian flag on the eastern side of the Adriatic, he said, also would confirm Italy's policy toward Albania. Italy wishing to preserve Albanian independence." Baron Sonnino concluded his speech as follows:

"Italy is firmly determined to continue the war vigorously with all her forces, facing any sacrifice until she reaches her sacred national aspirations, as well as those general conditions of independence, safety and mutual respect between people, which alone can be the base of a lasting peace and being also the essence of the pledge which unites the allies."

TOMORROWS' BIG GAME

Local Eleven to Line up Against One of Strongest Teams in District

Not since the memorable battle several years ago between the Cardinals and Seaman Gunners of Washington, and the Cardinals and Vigilants, also of the capital city, have the local football enthusiasts been so worked up, as they are over tomorrow's contest between the Virginia A. C. eleven and Mohawk's of Washington, to be staged at Baggett's field at 2:30.

That the Virginias are up against the hardest battle of their lives, there is no denying. Those who have seen the Mohawk eleven in action, say they are unusually fast and powerful, and a team that is to be feared right up to the final whistle. In Schofield and Lacaroni they have two powerful backs who seem able to advance the ball under almost any condition and are towers of strength on the defense.

The locals are in the pink of condition, and have had a strenous drill at the Armory each night this week under the watchful eye of Coach Muller, many new plays having been carefully rehearsed.

The management has perfected plans to handle the largest crowd that ever witnessed a football game in Alexandria. The Mohawk's will have large delegation of rooters form Washington, and they will be assigned to the east side of the field. All local rooters are requested to be on hand and take their places on the west side.

BOY-ED MUST GO, VON PAPEN ALSO

Recall of Germany's Naval and Military Attaches is Asked

IMPROPER ACTIVITY

Evidence Which Has Been Accumulating More Than A Year at Last Becomes Overwhelming.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Unable longer to overlook the offenses of Capt. Boy-Ed, and Capt. von Papen, naval and military attaches of the German Embassy, against the laws and the interests of the United States, President Wilson yesterday directed Secretary of State Lansing to send a note to the German Ambassador informing him that the two officials are persona non grata at Washington. "Improper activities," is the assigned reason.

Friends of President Wilson explained last night that it was only after the fullest measure of patience had been exhausted, and the last excuse for tolerance made unavailing that the Government decided to inform Germany of its displeasure at the activities of the two attaches. It was stated that the long delay of the President in deciding upon a step that for more than a year has seemed inevitable should be regarded as convincing evidence of this Government's wish not to permit anything to arise that was calculated to disturb amicable relations with Germany. It was said that the President's delay until after a United States court had passed on the guilt of those involved with Capt. Boy-Ed, in a conspiracy to violate the laws of the United States, should be viewed as sufficient proof of his judicial attitude by German sympathizers, as well as by those who have charged that this Administration is seeking to make political capital out of difficulties with Germany.

The drastic steps finally taken by the President directed interest to the case of Dr. von Nuber, Consul General at New York, of the Austro-Hungarian Government, Germany's ally. A short time ago the Department of Justice gave out a statement indicating that it had received evidence implicating von Nuber, in offenses against the neutrality laws of the United States. The Austrian Government has been pressing for retraction of this statement, and thus far there has been no determination of the diplomatic incident resulting from the Department of Justice's action.

The Attorney General, who disclaimed that the statement was issued with his authority, has stubbornly refused to announce that it was unjustified by the evidence before him.

OPENING OF BOWLING SEASON

Cardinals and Richmonds to Play Monday Night.

Monday night will feature the opening of the bowling season at the Richmond Alleys, when the Cardinals and Richmonds hook up for the best two out of three sets.

Acting manager Crump of the Cardinals has a very remarkable bunch, but are not alone, as the five other teams that make up the Alexandria City Bowling League, are said to be efficient in every way. Capt. Dunbar of the Richmonds is confident of a victory, while the Cardinals are overjoyed with the good showing made in the previous matches.

This combination of teams is said to be the first of its kind in Alexandria, and is expected to make a large hit with those who enjoy the winter sport. Games will be rolled on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week until April the First, and the team that finishes first will know that it has won from some of the best organizations in the South. The Cardinal's line-up will be picked from the following: D. Brown, R. Brown, Lynn, Crump, Thompson, Keister, and Bauer.

Tonight at the Richmond Alleys, the U. S. Geological Survey Team of Washington will roll three Sets with the Snorters.

BOY-ED EXPOSED AS ARCH PLOTTER.

The people of the United States are naturally indignant over the discovery that certain German agents have been making seaport cities of America depots for carrying out plans in aid of the Fatherland, plans against the laws of this country, and in open defiance of this nation.

These attaches of German diplomats are charged with having ridden roughshod over our laws, apparently obsessed with the notion that the United States has no rights they are bound to respect. The conviction of Hamburg-American officials this week has been followed closely by a request that Germany recall Captain Boy-Ed, who has been especially prominent in the unlawful procedures which have been carried on since the war was started in Europe. We could only express regret that the Kaiser deemed it right to violate his treaty with Belgium, but that act interested Europe more than the United States but it is not to be supposed that we are to gaze quietly upon the violation of our laws upon our own shores.

These is not the slightest doubt that the naval attache, Captain Boy-Ed, was closely linked with the German conspirators convicted in New York, that he had the handling of most of the funds and only the immunity granted to members of a diplomatic official family, saved him from prosecution as one of the conspirators. No less active in other directions has been the military attache, Captain Von Papen, whose exposure in connection with the Dumba affair and his expressed contempt for the American people rendered him persona non grata months ago. As suggested by the Baltimore American, it is high time both of them were sent home in disgrace.

They cannot defend their action on the plea that they were doing the bidding of their superiors. That cannot atone for their frequent, open and defiant violation of American laws, but that plea makes it incumbent upon Germany's ambassador in Washington to clear himself of responsibility. It is difficult to believe that this underhand and nefarious work went on months with his recognizance and without his approval. Count Von Bernstorff has been held in high esteem and his task since the war began has been of a most delicate nature, but has he kept inside the line, while those closest to him in his official capacity have set at defiance the laws of the land?

This action coupled with the New York verdict should put a quietus on German illegal activities in the United States. In the conspiracy trial the air of confidence, the tone of insolence and the affection of indifference to the gravity of the actions as charged, indicated that the attorney for the defense had certainly not properly gauged American sentiment for law. The fact that the papers in the case had been given over to the German Embassy and were placed out of the jurisdiction of the courts upon a specious plea tend to advance the interest of the defense.

For the individuals who have been found guilty of criminal conduct in the instance of a foreign government, they have only themselves to blame for their plight. Sympathy is felt for Dr. Karl Buenz, ousted managing director of the Hamburg-American line, whose past character and position have been such as to warrant confidence in him respect. Some others have been blatant and pernicious in their discussions and actions and are deserving of all the punishment that can be meted out to them. The offense carries with it grave penalties and the two indictments together make the guilty persons liable to four years' imprisonment and a fine of $20,000.

HORRORS OF THE PRESENT DAY WAR.

Scenes akin to those of the retreat of the French from Moscow are being reproduced in the war zones of Europe. Men are starving and freezing and their bodies becoming food for wolves.

Dispatches from points where the Austrians and Italians are engaged in a death struggle tell of the tremendous handicaps under which the belligerents are fighting. An icy gale of more than sixty miles an hour is whistling across the mountain crests, where the Italians are attacking the almost impregnable positions of the Austrians. So strong is the wind that on occasions the men have been forced to lie flat to save themselves from being carried over the edge of precipices and hurled to death in the deep canyon on the Carso.

The losses on both sides outrival anything before seen in war, when the comparatively short front is taken into consideration. Thousands are buried under the snow, where their bodies will lie until spring. Wounded men freeze to death before aid can reach them.

A force of starved, half-frozen Serbians, better described as ghosts than men, tried to defend Monastir, but stood no show before the well-equipped Bulgarians. Six thousand starved Serbians marched for seventeen days to the defense of the town, but were quickly thrown out. On two occasions the men had to march for two days without food. Although beaten, they refused to give in, but struggled against the snow and rain, to avoid surrender. Hundreds fell exhausted and were left by their comrades to die of hunger and cold.

Fighting between the forces of Grand Duke Nicholas and their Turkish opponents on the Caucasian front is proceeding under the most adverse weather conditions. Activity on the Caucasion front is hampered by fresh snows, ten feet deep, and also by cyclones.

CORK UPON THE TROUBLED WATERS.

Henry Ford and the members of his peace party left New York today upon the Oscar II. indulging dreams that the fierce goddess Bellona will take her flight when the smoke from his ship is descried in the offing. The attempts of the automobile builder to bring about pacific conditions at this time will be akin to those of the famous "J. N.," who forty-nine years ago was wont to address crowds from the top of a dry goods box at King and Pitt streets in Alexandria in efforts to unite the two great wings of the country, at that time sadly divided. "J. N." saw no reason why there should not be an immediate hugging match between wearers of the blue and the grey. But at that time some of his audience were humming the sonnet,

"I'm a good old rebel,
That's just what I am.
For this fair land of freedom
I do not care a d—n."

While Ford will be engaged in explaining his peace plan bands will probably be discoursing "Tis a long, long way to Tipperary" and the "Watch on the Rhine."

THE BIBLE AND THE FLAG.

America is losing its patriotism, its religion and its morality, and salvation lies only in a restoration of the former-time reverence of the Bible and flag, according to Rabbi Joseph Krauskoff, D. D., of Philadelphia, who last night delivered the principal address in Eighth Street Temple in Washington, at exercises in connection with the celebration of the sixieth anniversary of the Washington Hebrew Congregation.

"Like unto the Greeks of old," said the speaker, who took for his theme, "Bible and Flag: Sheet Anchors of Our Nation," "We are forgetting the source whence the founders of our nation drew the inspiration of their patriotism and forgetting it, we are losing our patriotism, and, losing that, our politics are more and more becoming corrupt, and our morals more and more lax. We have grown out of the habit of looking back with reverence to founders of our nation, to their deep religious fervor, to their exalted ideal of loyalty, to their rugged sense of right and honor. We need a restoration of former-time reverence of our Bible and our flag, for they are the sheet-anchors of our nation, the preservers of our moral strength and physical powers."

"HYPODERMIC RELIGION."

During the course of his remarks to the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, Thursday, in Wilmington, N. C., Bishop John C. Kilgo referred to the need for constant evangelistic effort in the church, and in this connection said: "I don't believe in spells of evangelistic effort and in campaigns of evangelism, but I believe in that apostolic zeal that will lay itself out day after day and night after night in the interest of the salvation of souls; that zeal that will save men from sin and from hell, and that will save them to heaven for time and eternity. I don't want you to take the religion of our Lord and work it into a compound and go around over the country administering it by hypodermic, but I want our people to have this religion all the time."

Bishop Kilgo's suggestions are practical. The world is hypercritical, and finds it difficult to understand why professing Christians get up steam semi-occasionally.

OPPOSE FADS IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

President Thomas H. McCosker, of the Baltimore School Board deplores the tendency toward fads and "isms' in public education, and is a firm believer in the theory that the public desires the children to be well grounded in the primary branches, such as spelling, reading, writing, geography, mathematics, English, grammar, history, and the like, in preference to some of the fads that are being grafted on public education all over the country.

Alan Gardner, bank messenger, and George deBrosa, a robber, died late last night from bullet wounds received in a sensational attempt made by the latter to steal a bag containing $4,000 in the Fourteenth street, New York, subway station during the rush hour late yesterday. De Brosa died first; Gardner ten minutes later. The messengers were employes of the Bank of the Metropolis, in Union square, near the scene of the hold-up.

Sir Edward A. Cornwall, a liberal member of the British Parliament, took the lead yesterday in a movement to prevent William J. Bryan and Henry Ford coming to England on a peace mission. He asserted that the presence of either man, would be unwelcome to England and, a source of irritation. Sir Edward gave notice that he would interpellate the government on Monday, asking Sir Edward Grey, the foreign minister, if he had heard of the proposed visits of Bryan and Ford, and whether he will notify both through the Washington government that a visit on a peace mission by the two Americans would be distasteful to the British government.

Bronchitis

When a severe cold settles on the lungs it is called bronchitis. There is danger of its leading to broncho pneumonia, and for this reason it is always best to go to bed and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed until well along toward recovery. Mrs. Charles E. Woodard, Sandy Creek, N. Y. writes: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured me of bronchitis last fall. When I began using it I was so hoarse at times that it was difficult for me to speak above a whisper. I resorted to the use of this valuable medicine and found it very soothing and healing. In a week's time I was well." Ob-

TWO BANDITS KILLED

Attempt Made to Hold Up Limited in Arkansas.

Little Rock., Ark., Dec. 4—A report from Malvern at 1.30 yesterday morning said that a battle had taken place between members of a sheriff's posse and bandits who attempted to hold up south-bound Iron Mountain passenger train No. 3 Thursday night The report said the sheriff was wounded and two of the bandits killed.

According to the superintendent's report, two masked men boarded the train as it pulled out of Malvern, Ark., and as the train reached Etta, they climbed over the tender covering the engineer and fireman with revolvers.

"Go shead," they commanded. "Don't stop until you see a campfire."

Engineer Homard put on all available steam and the train tore through the night at a 50 mile an hour speed.

"Stop. there's the fire," shouted one of the bandits.

Homard took his time about stopping the heavy train, and by the time he brought it to a standstill it was a mile past the campfire, where it is believed confederates of the two robbers were waiting.

Seeing their plans had miscarried, the bandits alighted from the engine and disappeared in the darkness.

DUEL OF AEROPLANES

French and German Airships Fight 4,000 Feet in Air

Paris, Dec. 4—Details of an aerial duel in which a German aeroplane was brought down into the sea off the Belgian coast on November 28 are given by the French aviator who performed the feat.

"Although it was very cold on that Sunday morning," said the aviator, "I set out on an aeroplane of the latest model, having with me as observer one of our best marksmen. Regardless of the cold wind, we flew at a high speed.

"As we approached the Dixmude-Ypres sector, my attention was attracted to a German aeroplane of the Albatross type. I made for it with all haste, but seeing itself discovered, the enemy machine turned about and headed toward sea."

The two machines were sooon engaged high above the sea, each using machine guns. Describing his maneuvers during the duel, the aviator continued:

"I flew straight for a hundred yards and then dropped 30 yards under the Albatross, manipulating my machine so that the speed conformed to that of the enemy. My observer had prepared to fire on our adversary, when bullets from the Albatross whizzed past our heads I made another defensive movement a little to the right. Just then my observer let go 50 cartridges.

"The effect was immediate. I had just time to move out of the way when the Albatross gave a lunge Was it hit or was it simply another maneuver? I had hardly asked myself the question, however, when I noticed that the momentum of the Albatross in its descent seemed to be increasing.

"At this moment we were 4,20 yards up, German antiaircraft gun which had previously fired at us again sought our machine with their fire, but I had other things to think of than enemy sharpnel, namely whether the enemy machine was yet effective and would put us out of action if we flew a little higher.

"We were much relieved to see the Albatross fall yet more speedily until finally it dropped into the sea In the clear weather, through the glasses of my observer, the machine could be distinguished and oil from the motor of the enemy machine was seen spreading over the surface of the water, making a large spot on the immense field of blue.

"For five minutes we circled above our victim, careless of the firing of the Germans, which failed to reach us. We could see boats leaving Middlekerke, hastily making for the spot where the machine fell."

Mrs. L. C. Nalls, 540 S. Patrick St., Alexandria, says: "I could hardly get about the house, as my back felt so weak and sore. When I got down, it was almost impossible for me to straighten up. I couldn't rest after I went to bed, as my back ached so and in the morning it was all I could do to dress myself. I felt weak and tired all over. My kidneys were very irregular in action and my head ached. The first box of Doan's Kidney Pills procured at C. W. Summers' Drug Store, did me so much good that I got another box. After I had finished that, my back stopped aching and my kidneys haven't caused me any trouble since."

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles. Our family doctor told my husband that it would not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor but he did not help me. At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing. I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped many thousands of other weak women the past 50 years. At all druggists.
